Essential Industry Provider: Legal Services Questionnaire & Waiver of Liability for Participation/Services Rendered

Fisher Court Reporting, as a necessary support function to attorneys in continuing to provide legal services (deemed essential services) during a time of “Shelter In Place” mandates, requires all parties (including clients, witnesses, any other individual, and our own personnel) attending in person/physically at an event, meeting, deposition, or any other activity, aka “session”, whether in our own offices or off site and where any Fisher service is provided, swear and agree to the following prior to any service being rendered:

Has not been outside of the state of Montana in the last 14 days for work or leisure travel?

Has not exhibited any symptoms of COVID-19 sickness such as fever, cough or flu-like symptoms in the last 14 days.

Has not been knowingly exposed to the coronavirus or been in a situation where exposure could be likely.

Agrees to comply with social-distancing requirements of maintaining a 6-foot distance between participants.

Promises to practice vigorous sanitation efforts and comply with all necessary health and safety requirements and precautions.

Promises to take responsibility for their own health and safety, and agrees that they will NOT hold Fisher Court Reporting liable or accountable for any exposure, sickness, or any other injury resulting from participation in this “session”.

If any in-person participant does not agree to ALL of the provisions in this document, Fisher reserves the right to refuse the service to commence.

Please note, we have an effective program for connecting any or all persons via REMOTE VIDEO ATTENDANCE. Call us at 888-344-4472 or email schedule@fishercourtreporting.com to arrange and discuss setting this up.
